Jeff brings energy and entertainment together to tell a story that is relevant to several business challenges today. Add in his entertainment value and you hit the trifecta!! I highly recommend Jeff!”

Days after the event, people are still asking me – where did you find him?! What a find!? You’ve done it again Fr. Pat. Well I didn’t. Jeff did. He’s perfect for a college campus, but we also have a lot of families. They loved him too.”

—Fr. Patrick Baikauskas

“Enthusiastic! Vibrant! Exuberant! Energetic! Hilarious! Entertaining! Those are just some of the words that describe your show. When I decided to bring you in for a big church event I had no doubt that you would entertain and engage, but I had no idea of the ‘blow me away’ factor you would bring. People were talking about your show for weeks, and actually made me look pretty good too, because everyone kept saying, ‘Where did you find that guy? He was great!’ Jeff, your family-filled show was so much more than we had hoped for. And the audience participation had everyone involved from kids to adults. This was literally a show for everyone! It’s hard to find shows that are as high a quality as yours that are still family-friendly. Your show wildly exceeded that expectation! When I think about my list of people that I would bring back to our church you are at the top of the list. Thanks for blowing us away!”

—Kent Rogers
Pastor at Golf Course Road Church

You are an incredible performer and a genuinely great person too. You make things so easy when booking you. Our hope was to help engage our attendees right off the bat, increase the level of professionalism with some of our messaging and, of course, encourage them to have a little fun in the process. He did not disappoint! From the very beginning, he brought our team great ideas and suggestions to enhance the conference experience and went the extra mile to learn the details of our conference ahead of time. Onsite, he was extremely flexible to our ever-changing schedule and was such a pleasure to work with. It was pretty incredible how quickly he tuned in to what topics would resonate with our attendees, and how nimble he was working between a virtual and in-person audience. My favorite thing about working with him was his commitment for going above-and-beyond though. Before the event, he was pushing us for different ways he could add value and maximize his time at the event. Highly recommend for in-person, virtual and hybrid events... Thanks Jeff!”

—Alex Huffman Baumann

Jeff served as the emcee for our 15th annual Energetic Women Conference held in St. Louis recently and he did not disappoint. This was our first time being fully back in person since the pandemic, and Jeff was the perfect person to usher us back in this space. His energy was electrifying and he did a phenomenal job connecting with our 600+ attendees. He kept us on track and made sure that everyone had a great time. As the chair of the event, he made my job easy. I had a great time working with him and I highly recommend him for your next event.”

Although we had to cancel that event, we wanted to have an event to appreciate our donors for getting us through the year. Enter Jeff! His virtual show is incredible. We trust Jeff, he understands the importance of our donor relationships and created a fun engaging family-friendly show that everyone just loved. "Jeff Civillico is a pro! When the UMC Foundation made the decision to put on its inaugural Evening of Hope Gala, Jeff was an easy choice as emcee. He is well known around University Medical Center and the UMC Children's Hospital as the Founder of Win Win Charity, an organization bringing smiles and laughs to some of our youngest patients with special performances by Las Vegas entertainers. Jeff brought his talents, charisma and philanthropic spirit to this role, and we couldn't be more thankful! He was very active in the marketing of this high-scale event, from appearances on television to coordinated social media posts. Jeff took time to study and become an expert on several aspects of the fundraiser and used his own following to get the word out, which contributed in part to the gala's large attendance. As emcee, he worked closely alongside the other entertainers and auctioneer to ensure a successful show and was flexible with every last-minute change that was thrown his way! The Evening of Hope Gala was a night to remember with more than 800 attendees and well over $1 million raised. “I just wanted to let you know that you were the perfect entertainer/emcee for the Tribute awards banquet at IHCA’s 61st Annual Convention. During your performance as I looked around the room, there was not one person who did not have a big smile on their face, and most were doing more than smiling...they were laughing out loud and nearly falling out of their chairs! I heard several comments afterwards about how much they enjoyed your show. You were also exemplary in your emcee duties. Hosting an event to pay tribute to the well-deserving staff and volunteers of long term care facilities is such a small gesture, so having an emcee who takes this seriously just makes it more special. I personally want to thank you for being so easy to work with. Even the video production company commented that you were the best emcee they had worked with at this event. All I can say is a great big ‘Thank You’ from the IHCA staff and the Tribute attendees.”

“Having seen Jeff Civillico’s performance in Las Vegas, I knew that he would be perfect for the entertainment part of our annual convention. I was concerned that he couldn’t replicate his Las Vegas act on a smaller stage and in a smaller setting. I assumed he couldn’t bring his many props to Arkansas and would have to give us an abbreviated performance. Boy was I wrong! His Arkansas performance was the highlight of our convention and I’m still receiving compliments from our attendees. "We have worked with Jeff Civillico now 2 years in a row. He was the emcee for our sales kickoff in 2020. It was our first time using a professional emcee. He was fantastic. Very buttoned up. It was a more formal sales kickoff for us and he hit the mark perfectly. With a virtual kickoff this year, we knew we needed to drive up the engagement level. We knew Jeff had phenomenal entertainment skills, and that was exactly the recipe we needed to keep the audience engaged. And that's why we decided to bring him back for our 2021 kickoff. He did a fantastic job! The chat was blowing up on us the whole time during anything he did. It was fantastic. He also hosted our customer panels, and panels with our senior executives. He has a tremendous range!"

“We hired Jeff Civillico to perform for our corporate Christmas Party this year on short notice. My main concern was hiring an act that could entertain a diverse ethnic group and young children without offending anyone as I have seen with other comedy acts. Jeff did an amazing job entertaining the whole group without using foul language and kept the audience involved. I surveyed the room often and not a single person got up to leave for any reason. He kept us entertained for the full hour. This was by far the funniest, most jaw dropping show I have ever attended. His juggling acts were off the chart and the comedy was spot on.”

—Jim Orr
