

Jeff Civillico Keynote Program

WORK THAT MATTERS

Jeff Civillico brings a decade of Vegas headlining experience to his keynotes... there's world-class juggling, balancing, and stunts packed into every presentation... not to mention lots of audience participation and improvisation!

"Work That Matters" is a customized, interactive, entertainment-based keynote experience that highlights the inherent value of the individual – personally and professionally – within a team/organization.

Throughout Jeff's presentation, individuals consider their role within a broader context. Jeff gives his audience tools to better understand themselves and their work, connecting everyone's individual story and purpose to the larger narrative of the organization.
