

Paul Epstein Stage Intro

Paul Epstein believes WINNING MONDAY is the key to growth, winning the long game, and building unstoppable momentum.

These insights were gathered over a 15-year run as a professional sports executive— where Paul successfully steered business teams that executed billion-dollar NFL campaigns, broke Super Bowl revenue records, and generated league-leading sales results for cellar-dwelling NBA clubs.

He's since consulted some of the world's top companies and brands, awarded by SUCCESS magazine as a top thought leader that gets results, with his work featured on ESPN, NBC, Fox Business, and in USA Today resulting in two bestselling books, The Power of Playing Offense and Better Decisions Faster.

Paul is a proud father of PJ and Lucca, married his best friend on the field of Levi's Stadium, and has a slight obsession with bacon—just don't make it too crispy

Ladies and gentlemen...Paul Epstein.
